CALL TO ORDER AND ROLL CALL

Board Chair Patrick Mullin called the meeting to order at 9:15 a.m. Secretary Jane Murphy Timken called the roll, and a quorum was present.

PROOF OF NOTICE

Chair Mullin stated that public notification was given pursuant to state law and university policy.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

Chair Mullin announced the Board had a need to meet in Executive Session for the purposes of personnel, real estate, legal, and collective bargaining matters in accordance with Chapter 121.22, Section G of the Ohio Revised Code. Trustee Eckart moved, seconded by Trustee Pollock, that the Board retire into Executive Session. By virtue of a unanimous roll call vote, the Board adjourned into Executive Session. At 11:00 a.m., the session concluded and Chair Mullin declared the meeting in recess for committee meetings.

APPROVAL OF THE AGENDA

The Board of Trustees reconvened for the business portion of the meeting at 2:05 p.m. Chair Mullin then turned the meeting over to incoming Chair Jacqueline Woods, stating that he was thankful for the opportunity to serve as Chair the previous two years. Trustee Mullin noted further that he had great confidence in Trustee Woods’ ability to continue to move Kent State forward. With that, Chair Woods thanked Trustee Mullin for his kind words and for his service to the university. She then asked if there were any changes to the agenda. Hearing none, the agenda was approved by general consent.

DISPOSITION OF MINUTES

Chair Woods asked if there were any corrections to the minutes of the meeting of September 15, 2010. Hearing no corrections, the minutes were approved by general consent.

REPORT OF THE CHAIRPERSON

Chair Woods noted for the record the installation of 2010-2011 officers: Trustee Jane Murphy Timken as Vice Chair and Trustee Dennis Eckart as Secretary. She announced leadership of Board committees as follows: Trustee Eckart, Chair of the Academic Excellence and Student Success Committee; Trustee Patrick Mullin, Chair of the Finance and Administration Committee and the Audit Committee; and Trustee Lawrence Pollock, Chair of the External Relations and Development Committee. Trustee Jane Timken also will serve as the Board’s representative to the Kent State University Foundation Board, she stated.

Chair Woods then turned to the external environment in which the university exists, congratulating all those who won election to public office in 2010, including newly elected Gov. John Kasich. The Board looks forward to working with Governor Kasich and the General Assembly in the coming year, she said. Chair Woods then thanked outgoing Gov. Ted Strickland for his support of higher education and the role it plays in the state economy.

On behalf of the Board, she congratulated the administration, faculty, staff and students for a highly successful fall semester, which saw record enrollments and path-breaking accomplishments. Kent State was recognized by the Times of London as one of the top 200 universities in the world and by U.S. News and World Reports as one of the best national universities, she noted. Also, Chair Woods observed that among Northeast Ohio universities, Kent State enrolls more veterans. As the university’s centennial year came to a close, she noted that Kent State is looking toward the next 100 years dedicated to student success, serving our communities, and continuing the momentum gained this fall.

Chair Woods remarked that Trustee O’Brien and she would be on hand for the winter commencement exercises, congratulating the university’s newest 1,982 graduates on behalf of the Board. Commencement is the high point of the academic year, she noted, and an opportunity for trustees to see the product of everyone’s hard work. She then announced commencement speakers: Andre Thornton, President and CEO of ASW Global, and Terry Scott, Global Head of Creative Brand Services & Cake Mix Studios, Hasbro, Inc.

Chair Woods then commented upon the annual external audit of the financial statements of the university. While Trustee Mullin will give a detailed report from the Audit Committee, she was pleased to note that the outside auditors again issued an unqualified report for the fiscal year. ending June 30, 2010. Chair Woods remarked that along with its responsibilities for educational quality, the Board must ensure the fiscal integrity of the institution. She congratulated President Lefton and his staff for the outstanding results.

Chair Woods then asked President Lefton to give his report.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

President Lefton began his report on Intercollegiate Athletics by stating that the current “bowl mania” seemed like an ideal time to talk about the subject.

He remarked that the university’s excellence agenda demands excellence in all areas, including intercollegiate athletics. He stated further that his presentation would focus on the national athletic scene, how Kent State measures up, and how the university can optimize its value proposition. President Lefton continued by saying that he believes Kent State has the right values, manages the athletic program carefully in a rapidly changing environment, and all things considered is in the right place competitively.

Like Kent State overall, Intercollegiate Athletics had its best year ever in 2010, he said. In terms of leadership the department saw a seamless transition from retiring athletic director Laing Kennedy to Joel Nielsen. Kent State also won the conference’s Reese and Jacoby trophies and was named the Excellence in Management Cup National Champion for running the most economically efficient athletic department in the Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS). Kent State student-athletes are excelling in their studies, posting impressive Graduation Success Rates (GSRs) as well as Academic Performance Rates (APRs). President Lefton continued his praise by showing that Kent State student-athletes donated $30,000 and hundreds of hours of volunteer service. Athletic fundraising was on pace to exceed FY10 totals and the program boasts an important impact on the local economy. He added, that Kent State football met the NCAA attendance requirement due in large part to the successful 90KSU campaign. President Lefton wrapped up his good news by showing several prominent former Golden Flashes who now play their sports professionally.

President Lefton then turned his attention to where Intercollegiate Athletics fits in terms of the university as a whole, and when compared to national trends. He continued by showing how the Mid-American Conference (MAC) compares to total expenses and generated revenues of FBS institutions. He noted that while Kent State leads the MAC in performance, it trails on key financial metrics, including revenues generated.

Nationally the field is very much in flux, he said. There are growing concerns about athletic priorities and finances, he noted, pointing to the recent reports of the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges and the Knight Commission on Intercollegiate Athletics. Kent State is meeting each of the three major recommendations from the Knight Commission report, including greater transparency, making academic values a priority, and treating athletes as students, he said. President Lefton continued by pointing out the large increases in revenues among the nation’s six power conferences, and that growth in spending among the top 10 institutions is unprecedented and likely to continue.

President Lefton then turned the presentation over to Director of Athletics Joel Nielsen. Mr.
Nielsen discussed the department’s strategy map as it relates to academic achievement and student success. He remarked that national athletic exposure has significant impact on an institution like Kent State, pointing to increases in student applications and enrollment at colleges where teams have excelled. He discussed the department’s strategy map as it relates to resource development, noting the university’s goal is to increase revenue from external fundraising and ticket sales. He concluded his remarks by discussing the football enhancement program and the goals the department has set to ensure the program is competitive.

President Lefton summed up by stating that he has concluded that Kent State does have the right values, manages carefully in a rapidly changing environment, and all things considered seems to be in the right place competitively. He then opened the floor for questions.

Trustee Mullin asked Mr. Nielsen if it was true that his commitment to beat Alabama next year is a top priority. Mr. Nielsen replied that that was the very reason he scheduled the contest!
Trustee Eckart then remarked that 415 student-athletes seems to be relatively low when compared to the total student body. He asked how many students participate in sports, adding team, club sports, intramurals, and other team sports and recreation leagues at Kent State. Vice President Jarvie replied that close to 250 students participate in club sports on campus, and thousands of students play intramural sports. Trustee Eckart then observed that intercollegiate athletics and intramural athletics seem to reinforce each other. President Lefton noted that the university has invested heavily in sports and recreation, pointing to new fields that will replace the small group housing on campus. Vice President Jarvie added that Mr. Nielsen and his staff have been gracious with facility usage for intramurals. Trustee Copeland commented that Boise State has grown to a national brand of late, and she asked Mr. Nielsen what ingredients go into producing such success. Mr. Nielsen replied that investing in people is key, facility upgrades, and making a continuous investment in the program. Chair Woods then asked Mr. Nielsen how philosophies differ between an institution like Kent State and a top 12 athletic institution. He said spending at those top institutions is rising at such a rate that other colleges do not have an opportunity to catch up. He said one prediction is the top six conferences will break off into their own enterprise; however, the likelihood of this in the near term seems very small, he said.
Trustee Eckart asked if Kent State was offering the right sports with regard to geographic traditions in Northeast Ohio. Mr. Nielsen responded that he was confident Kent State is offering the right mix of sports. Trustee Copeland observed that over the years Ohio State has done an excellent job leveraging Archie Griffin’s brand. She wanted to know what the leadership’s thoughts were about leveraging pro Kent alumni. Mr. Nielsen replied the department is actively reaching out to Kent State professional alums, citing the example of the Josh Cribbs Day held during the 2010 football season.

Chair Woods thanked President Lefton and Director Nielsen for their reports and asked Dr.
Lefton to move to the personnel actions.
PERSONNEL ACTIONS

President Lefton asked Senior Vice President and Provost Robert Frank to present the academic personnel actions and Vice President Walker to present the non-academic personnel actions.

ACADEMIC PERSONNEL

Provost Frank reported the emeriti recommendations, and that the remaining academic actions were routine in nature.

NON-ACADEMIC PERSONNEL

Vice President Walker noted that the non-academic actions were routine.

ACTION: There were no objections to placing the personnel actions on the consent agenda.

Chair Woods then called on Trustee Lawrence Pollock for the External Relations and Development Committee report.

REPORT OF THE EXTERNAL RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE

Trustee Pollock reported that the External Relations and Development Committee met that afternoon to discuss the proposed naming of the George Jenkins and Jim Phelan Hall of Fame Plaza at Dix Stadium. In addition the committee received an update on the Centennial Campaign, and heard a proposal for an All-Boards Leadership Retreat to be held in 2011. Trustees also received a report from Government Relations on the 2010 elections and the university’s strategy moving forward, he noted.

NAMING OF THE GEORGE JENKINS AND JIM PHELAN HALL OF FAME PLAZA

On behalf of the committee, Trustee Pollock recommended one item for placement on the consent agenda. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics proposed the naming of the plaza in the south end zone of Dix Stadium in honor of George Jenkins, a former member of the Kent State University Board of Trustees and Jim Phelan, a member of the university’s National Athletic Development Council. Their support of KSU athletics is longstanding and widely appreciated by the students, student-athletes, faculty, staff and fans, he said.

ESTABLISHMENT OF THE CENTER FOR NUTRITION OUTREACH

Trustee Eckart brought forth a resolution establishing a Center for Nutrition Outreach. He explained the reason behind the name change was to allow the existing program to better promote its services and to expand research and service opportunities.

Trustee Eckart then commented on the discussion topics brought forth at the committee meeting, stating that they were particularly relevant. Provost and Senior Vice President Frank gave the committee a presentation regarding how to refocus the College of Technology, with the goal of creating a viable niche and fostering economic growth of the community. Trustee Eckart continued by saying that without a doubt, job opportunities in fields such as sustainability, construction management and industrial engineering would be increasingly valuable in attracting and retaining students. In the view of the committee, this vision is bold thinking in uncertain times, he said. He remarked that uncertainty does not mean retreat from the proposal, but the committee would like the provost and senior administration to make sure they are placing it among the calculus of current economic realities.

Trustee Eckart stated that the committee also received a presentation on the College of Business Administration from Dean Yank Heisler. The committee felt that Dean Heisler’s presence and work have helped to revitalize the college and its relevance in field, he said. In addition, the committee also received a 2011 enrollment preview from Vice President Greg Jarvie. Trustee Eckart noted that the committee had positive reviews, particularly in regard to the planned Kaizen event to make student enrollment, admission and financial processes more user-friendly.

Trustee Eckart concluded his report of the Academic Excellence and Student Success committee.

Once again, the university’s financial statements received a clean audit opinion. In addition, Trustee Mullin said he was pleased to report that no management discussion items were brought forward. The Audit Committee wished to acknowledge the great work of the finance staff and internal auditor on this clean audit, he said.

The committee also reviewed the first quarter report of the fiscal year 2011 Internal Audit Activities, he reported.

That concluded the report of the Audit Committee.

The changes made to Administrative Policy 3342-6-08.1 add appointing authority approval to job reclassifications prior to sustaining an increase in job scope or salary level when an administrative and professional salaried employee is determined to be working out of his or her classification, he said.
