EXECUTIVE SESSION

In accordance with Section 121.22(G) of the Ohio Revised Code, Chair Eckart announced that the Board had a need to meet in Executive Session for the purposes of: (i) considering the employment and compensation of a public employee or official [R.C. 121.22(G)(1)]; (ii) considering the purchase of property for public purposes [R.C. 121.22(G)(2)]; and (iii) preparing for, conducting, or reviewing negotiations or bargaining sessions with public employees concerning their compensation or other terms and conditions of their employment [R.C. 121.22(G)(4)].

Trustee Colecchi moved, seconded by Trustee Marsh, that the Board retire into Executive Session in the Trustees’ Conference Room.
By virtue of a unanimous roll call vote, the Board adjourned into Executive Session. The session concluded at 8:46 a.m. Chair Eckart announced that the executive session was in recess and would resume at 11:30 a.m. in the Alumni Conference Suite in the Kent State University Student Center.

Following meetings of the Board as a committee of the whole, and of the Academic Excellence and Student Success Committee and the Audit and Compliance Committee, the Board reconvened at 11:30 a.m. for purposes of executive session. The executive session was declared in recess at 12:25 p.m., and trustees returned to the Library second floor for meetings of the External Relations and Development Committee and the Finance and Administration Committee.

APPROVAL OF THE AGENDA

The Board reconvened for the business portion of the meeting at 2:00 p.m. in the Urban Conference Room. Chair Eckart requested additions or corrections to the afternoon’s agenda. Hearing none, the agenda was approved by general consent.

DISPOSITION OF MINUTES

Chair Eckart requested additions, corrections, and deletions to the minutes of the August 11, 2014, special meeting and the September 17, 2014, Board of Trustees meeting. Hearing none, the minutes for both meetings were approved by general consent.

REPORT OF THE CHAIR

Chair Eckart thanked everyone for being there as the Board gathered to conduct important business of the university and he noted the presence of a quorum.

Chair Eckart congratulated President Beverly Warren on her success since joining Kent State University, including the return of the coveted Wagon Wheel trophy to Kent State. He then lifted the trophy, which goes to the victor of the Kent State-Akron football game, to the applause of the audience. Both Chair Eckart and President Warren commended the football team for its dedication and effort during the trials and tribulations of the past season. Chair Eckart congratulated Kent State administration, faculty, staff, and students on a highly successful fall semester, one in which the university experienced its best freshman class ever and made noted accomplishments in education, research, and service. He noted the Board of Trustees’ pride in the accomplishments of the university’s students, faculty, and staff, and he wished all a successful conclusion to the semester.

Chair Eckart commented on recently accompanying Dr. Warren on her President’s Listening Tour to New York City, along with Interim Vice President of Institutional Advancement Steve Sokany, Foundation Board Chairman Gary Brahler, and Trustee Emeritus Jane Timken. The group visited the Kent State NYC Studio, where students shared their incredible experiences participating in this program in the “Big City.” Chair Eckart noted the strength of marrying students’ academic pursuits with a vibrant environment in a manner that contributes to securing their future success. Chair Eckart encouraged trustees to speak with students at every opportunity as a means of remembering why they serve on the Board and to provide a source of motivation.

Referring to the recent November election, Chair Eckart reported that Kent State looks forward to working with the members of the new Ohio General Assembly, Governor John Kasich, and other officeholders successful in the election as they continue to strengthen Ohio and the opportunities for constituents. Chair Eckart also noted the importance of the state budget, and acknowledged the challenges of the upcoming state budget process.

Chair Eckart announced that May 1, 2015, will be a historic day for Kent State University as it is the date of the formal inauguration of President Beverly Warren, the university’s 12th president. The inaugural will include a week of celebrating the impact of both President Warren and Kent State University, providing an ongoing vision for the future and for our constituents – a redefinition of the greatness that is Kent State University, he said. A working committee, led by Valoree Vargo, will provide more information as it becomes available, and Chair Eckart encouraged the Board to reserve time to participate in this important event.

Chair Eckart then thanked Foundation Board Chairman Brahler and Vice President Sokany for providing continued dialogue relative to the Kent State University Board of Trustees and Foundation Board of Directors relationship. He invited Board members to attend the Foundation Board’s next meeting scheduled for March 5-6, 2015, in Naples, Florida.

Chair Eckart noted Kent State will recognize 2,000 graduates on December 13, 2014, during the university’s fall commencement exercises. Chair Eckart recognized commencement as the highlight of the academic year, and indicated the activities will include two distinguished alumni speakers. David Webster, CEO of Electrical Components International Inc. will address the undergraduates, while Dr. Walter Horton, dean of graduate studies and vice president for research at Northeast Ohio Medical University (NEOMED), will speak to students receiving graduate degrees. Chair Eckart extended congratulations to the graduates and their families on behalf of the Board.

Chair Eckart recognized Trustee PJ Kimmel, who attended the recent 2014 University System of Ohio Trustees Conference, hosted by the Ohio Board of Regents. Trustee Kimmel thanked the Board for providing him with the opportunity to represent Kent State and to learn from the leadership in attendance. Trustee Kimmel noted the conference introduced seven recommendations for boards, and he shared that two of the recommendations – improving public trust in higher education and focusing on issues of greatest consequence – were of special interest to him. Chair Eckart thanked Trustee Kimmel for his report as well as his participation as a trustee, and he noted that trustees would receive the full conference report. Chair Eckart then called on President Beverly Warren to present her report.
REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

President Warren stated her pleasure in delivering her second report to the Board. Responding to several current issues of national interest, specifically the aftermath of the Ferguson grand jury decision and allegations of sexual assaults on campuses nationwide, President Warren noted that Kent State is engaging stakeholders to move through their concerns in thoughtful ways. She complimented the KSU Black United Students group for its recent march from campus to the City of Kent police department, and she noted the great concern across the country as we continue to struggle with issues of race and social justice 50 years after the U.S. civil rights movement. President Warren reported that Kent State will host a student town hall meeting in January to discuss race and social justice in a forum where voices can be heard from a variety of viewpoints. The town hall will occur in conjunction with the university’s celebration of Martin Luther King Day, and will include opportunities for celebration, reflection, and dialogue.

President Warren also commented upon the recent evidence of sexual assaults on campuses across the nation. Referencing the U.S. Department of Education’s identification of 76 institutions with noted campus sexual assault concerns, President Warren stated that Kent State is not immune to issues of assault. She recognized Kent State’s current support mechanisms, including the university’s Sexual Relationship and Violence Support Services. Additionally, President Warren commended the university’s network of opportunities targeting assault, which include prevention efforts, regular policy reviews, and the campus Sexual Assault Response Team – all efforts designed to promote dialogue on how Kent State can respond effectively to assault concerns. President Warren called on the university community to continue the dialogue relative to sexual assault, including the confounding issues of alcohol and alcohol-impaired judgment, as a means of leading the university to increasingly positive outcomes.

Moving forward to discuss the university’s collective call for action, President Warren shared the university’s recent accomplishments relative to her first-year strategic priorities, including recognition of individuals playing key roles in these endeavors. Beginning with the priority Students First, President Warren commended the university on its role as a member of the Akron metropolitan statistical area (MSA) in winning the Talent Dividend competition, a national competition sponsored by CEOs for Cities, which resulted in a $1-million prize to the area. Noting Kent State’s contribution to increasing college attainment by 20% in Portage and Summit counties in four years, President Warren recognized several individuals instrumental in ensuring student success at Kent State, including Provost Diacon, Associate Provost for Academic Affairs Melody Tankersley, and Associate Provost for Accreditation, Assessment, and Learning Fashaad Crawford.

President Warren then introduced Vice President for Information Services Ed Mahon and his staff members, Coleen Santee and Jason Wearley. Recognizing the significance of their efforts in providing information systems such as the Graduation Planning System (GPS) and electronic class registration that assist Kent State students in accomplishing their academic goals, President Warren thanked Vice President Mahon, Ms. Santee, and Mr. Wearley for their work.
In discussing the priority Distinctive Identity, the President recognized Vice President Alfreda Brown, who recently received the national Diversity Visionary Award by Diverse magazine. President Warren thanked Vice President Brown and expressed the university’s gratitude for her efforts to establish and maintain best practices every day that promote inclusive environments.

Dr. Warren also announced the conclusion of her Presidential Listening Tour, an important outreach within the university’s Distinctive Identity efforts. Noting that the tour consisted of 56 meetings soliciting feedback from more than 5,000 university stakeholders, the president recognized and thanked Valoree Vargo, Patty Bujorian, and Liz Henry, who were instrumental in branding the tour and assisting President Warren throughout the tour process.

Moving to Global Competitiveness, the president commended consultant Dr. Brad Fenwick for his services advising the university. Noting Dr. Fenwick’s focus on moving research forward in powerful ways, President Warren emphasized the importance of developing a culture of research through thoughtful discussion that will move Kent State forward as a public research university.

Addressing Local and Regional Impact, President Warren noted the impact of the recent Ebola crisis on Kent State and the local community. She commended university leadership for its quick, clear, and courageous response to the crisis in the midst of great national attention. President Warren also praised the university’s immediate development of its university-based medical and public health services team and communication and crisis management team. These two teams working in collaboration allowed Kent State to communicate well, not only within the university, but also to the world at large. She singled out Dr. Angela DeJulius, Kent State’s medical director, and Dr. Chris Woolverton, professor from the College of Public Health and a member of the City of Kent Board of Health, and thanked them for their efforts during this time. Additionally, President Warren commended Iris Harvey, vice president for university relations, and Eric Mansfield, executive director of university media relations, for their expertise in communication management. President Warren noted their assistance in communicating the university’s management of the crisis in the midst of extreme public anxiety and national exposure resulted in both local and national praise for the Kent State.

Addressing a Sustainable and Vibrant Future, President Warren recognized Interim Vice President Sokany and celebrated Kent State’s recent $3-million gift from the estate of Wallace J. Hagedorn. Mr. Hagedorn visited Kent State 75 years ago and became an amateur photographer for the rest of his career due to the transformational experience he had here. She thanked Interim Vice President Sokany for his continued contact with Mr. Hagedorn, and she recognized the importance of random acts of kindness. President Warren indicated that the gift will assist Kent State’s photojournalism program, and she introduced Thor Wasbotten, director of the School of Journalism and Mass Communications, and photojournalism students Adriana Noel and Amani Williams, representing those who will benefit from Mr. Haegorn’s generosity.

The President also recognized Gregg Floyd, senior vice president for finance and administration, and his colleagues Tom Euclide and Michael Bruder for their leadership relative to the university’s Foundations of Excellence Plan, which includes seven new university buildings, significant renovations to many university structures, and the Lester A. Lefton Esplanade. President Warren thanked Vice President Floyd, Mr. Euclide, Mr. Bruder, and their many administrative and facility colleagues for their vision and hard work. She noted the Board’s role in overseeing and approving the plan’s projects and recognized the Joint Project Oversight Committee for its work in enacting the shared vision of the board and administration. Trustee Eckart thanked President Warren for her presentation, asked for questions, and heard none.

PERSONNEL ACTIONS

Chair Eckart asked President Warren to present the personnel actions. President Warren called on Provost Diacon to present the academic personnel actions followed by Interim Vice President Joe Vitale to present the non-academic personnel actions.

ACADEMIC PERSONNEL

Provost Diacon reported that the personnel actions to be considered at this meeting were routine in nature. Of special note was the retirement of Dr. Donald Hassler after 49 years of service to Kent State, and the Board’s approval of Dr. Hassler’s emeritus standing, effective July 1, 2015.
